

Greetings UDCers!

The 2010 conference program-in-progress is nearly finished. Please see the updated schedule posted here (and again, let us know if you spot errors or omissions).

We also tweaked the registration form a bit to gather more information for membership purposes. If you haven't registered already, please print out the new version posted here and send it in ASAP!

We're planning a small book display and welcome all donations. If you'd like to send or bring copies of your own books (or better yet, if you can convince your publisher to send any titles that might interest our participants, along with order forms, coupons, etc.) please do so! We don't plan to sell (or, for that matter return) books. Rather, we'll ceremoniously give them away at the closing night dinner/dance party.

Please also keep the Sunday morning business meeting in mind as you make travel arrangements, and remember that we hope to determine a host for the 2012 conference at that time.

Please direct all correspondence to Jeanne at:

We're looking forward to seeing you all in October!
